Nexentel and TeleMatrix Announce Distributor Partnership.

Bangkok, Thailand and Colorado Springs, Colorado December 9, 2009—Nexentel Limited, Bangkok, Thailand. (www.nexentel.com), a worldwide provider of Cisco IP PBX telephone systems, and TeleMatrix, Inc. (www.telematrix.net), a leading manufacturer of SIP telephone sets, today announced a distribution partnership that provides Nexentel channel partners and customers access to TeleMatrix SIP and DECT SIP telephones.

According to Suwasri Ruangtai, Nexentel Administration Manager, "Nexentel is delighted to have secured the rights to distribute TeleMatrix SIP telephone sets". The TeleMatrix brand not only complements our existing IP product lines, but effectively extends penetration of these products into the emerging Asian hotel IP telephony marketplace."

Nexentel is a Cisco Advanced Technology Provider (ATP) and Unified Communication Specialized partner, delivering VOIP, unified communications, and IP call center solutions for customers to optimize existing communications and enhance business processes.

TeleMatrix is an ISO 9001 and RoHS-certified manufacturer of SIP corded, DECT SIP cordless, analog, and digital Centrex telephones for hotel, education, healthcare and general business applications. Through the 2006 merger of TeleMatrix and Scitec, the combined companies have deployed 7 million telephones at 30,000 commercial customer locations worldwide. Hotel customers include Accor, Best Western, Choice Hotels International, Hilton, Hyatt, InterContinental Hotels Group, Marriott, Starwood, Swissotel and Wyndham.

"It is extremely important for TeleMatrix to identify channel partners that share our goals and display the ability to provide our customers with first class installation, service, and support", said Jose Quiros, Chief Operating Officer, Scitec, Inc./TeleMatrix, Inc. "Nexentel clearly fits these criteria, and we look forward to working together" he concludes.
