

TELEPHONE TIP 9:

Now your cordless handset will work during outages

Only TeleMatrix provides a cordless telephone equipped to operate when there is no power in the room. Our solution enables the RF (cordless) component on the base to receive sufficient power to continue to operate for hours without power. Your alternative is to know the speaker key on the base works under these circumstances or you could use poorly designed and tested generic "combination" sets.

A public awareness announcement provided by your friends at TeleMatrix and Scitec.
